

PARTY LEADERS' SLATE ADOPTED, CONVENTION ENDS

Proceedings Harmonious With Exception of Lunn's Fight

WET PLATFORM PLANK

Blanket Endorsement of San Francisco Platform Included; Irish Recognition Urged

Saratoga Springs, Aug. 4.—The ticket of state officers determined upon by party leaders was, with one exception, the only slate "suggested" for the guidance of the electors at the final session of the unofficial Democratic state convention here today.

Delegations from three of the counties in the Adirondack region, Clinton, Essex and Franklin, notified the convention that if former Lieutenant Governor Thomas S. Conway of Plattsburgh should decide to enter the primaries for the nomination of United States senator, he would receive their undivided support. It was explained by the Clinton county spokesman that Mr. Conway had the matter under consideration but had not reached a decision.

The state ticket endorsed by the convention was as follows:

The State Ticket.

Governor, Alfred E. Smith of New York.

Lieutenant governor, George R. Felt of Tompkins.

Comptroller, General Charles W. Berry of Kings.

Secretary of state, Miss Harriet May Mills of Onondaga.

Attorney general, Philip R. Lings of Erie.

Treasurer, John F. Healy of Westchester.

State engineer, Paul McLeod of Washington.

Associate judges of the Court of Appeals, Abram I. Elkus of New York, and Frederick E. Crane of Kings.

United States senator, Lieutenant Governor Harry C. Walker of Broome.

Two eleven-hour changes were made in the personnel of the ticket that was picked by the leaders last night. Former Senator John F. Healy of Westchester was advocated for the nomination of state treasurer, and Frederick E. Crane of Kings, formerly a supreme court justice, was put forward as a candidate for associate judge of the court of appeals in place of Edgar S. K. Merrill of Lewis. The Crane candidacy was not announced until about five minutes before adjournment of the convention. Judge Merrill's name was not presented.

Judge Crane is the Republican candidate for a place on the court of appeals bench. He was suggested to the convention by Charles J. Druhan, a delegate from Brooklyn, and the presentation of his name was greeted with cheers by the entire Kings county delegation.

Leaders' Program Followed.

While the convention did not actually designate or recommend any candidate for any position, the leaders' ticket was placed before the convention, place by place, and no other candidate was suggested for the consideration of the delegates with the single exception of Mr. Conway.

The proceedings were unusually harmonious. The only serious objection to the program prepared by the leaders of Tammany Hall and the upstate organization came from Mayor George R. Lunn of Schenectady, an avowed candidate for the nomination for United States senator, who left the convention before it had finished its business today. Undaunted by his crushing defeat of last night, when the convention by a vote of 454 to 16 bowed over his motion that no suggestion of candidates be permitted, the Schenectady executive returned to the fray with renewed vigor this morning, and battled valiantly but vainly for the elimination from the platform of a plank declaring for a modification of the Volstead prohibition enforcement act that would define intoxicating beverages in such a manner as to permit traffic in beer of 2.75 per cent alcoholic content. Again he met defeat, the vote being 405 to 34 against his proposal.

Mayor Lunn returned to the fray a third time when he made another but very brief protest against the action of the convention in calling the roll of counties for the expression of sentiment regarding candidates for places on the state ticket, on the ground that such action was a violation of the spirit of the direct primary law. On this occasion, he did not call for a record vote. He was supported in his protest by Thomas F. Rogers, a delegate from Steuben county, who charged that the ticket that would be presented had been "hand picked" by State Chairman William F. Farley, Charles F. Murphy, the Tammany chieftain, and William H. Fitzpatrick, Erie county leader.

Lunn's Friends Remain Loyal.

The Schenectady delegation stood loyally behind Mayor Lunn, and a few scattered delegates from upstate counties and one from New York city voted with them, but the convention showed its hostility to Lunn's arguments by jeers and cries of "Question, question, go on with the roll call." Mr. Rogers was given a similar reception as soon as it became apparent why he had taken the platform.

When Schenectady was reached on the roll call of counties there was no response as Mayor Lunn and his colleagues walked out of the convention hall shortly after the roll was begun.

From the time it became evident that the convention would permit some expression of sentiment regarding candidates, Mr. Lunn had declared that he would not accept the convention's designation if he chose it should be accepted him, and that he would enter the primaries regardless of the convention's action.

Today's session was devoted to the reading and adopting of the platform and the "suggestion" of candidates. Except for the lone fight by Mayor Lunn against the beer plank, and the endorsement by Chairman John J. Fitzgerald, of the resolutions committee, there was no debate. The convention adjourned at 2:25 p. m.

No National Issues in Platform.

The League of Nations and other national issues were not mentioned, although there was a blanket endorsement of the platform adopted by the national convention at San Francisco, which contained a plank declaring for the league favored by President Wilson. Convention officials explained that it was considered advisable to confine the state platform to state issues and that the blanket endorsement of the national platform should be construed as endorsing everything in it.

Besides favoring a modification of the Volstead act, the platform recommended "recognition without intervention in all cases where the people of a nation, as in Ireland, have by free vote of the people set up a republic." It urged the enactment of the welfare legislation recommended by Governor Smith in his message to the legislature; favored the reorganization of the state government by a consolidation of state departments; declared for the creation of an executive budget system; recommended state development and control of hydro-electric power; condemned the Republican majority in the legislature for refusing to pass Governor Smith's legislation; endorsed the Wilson and the Smith administrations, and pledged loyal and undivided support to the party's national and state tickets in the November elections.

The complete platform contains nearly 5,000 words.

Plank on Volstead Act.

The plank on the Volstead act follows:

"We favor an amendment to the so-called Volstead act that will make operative the act passed by the state legislature and signed by Governor Smith defining non-intoxicating beverages and providing for the regulation of their sale."

"We favor an amendment to the national constitution whereby all amendments to the constitution of the United States hereafter proposed shall be ratified by a referendum of the whole people and not by the legislatures of the several states."

"Mindful of the circumstances of the birth of our own nation, we reassert the principle that all governments derive their just powers from the consent of the governed. We favor the continuance of our long established and lawful practice of according recognition without intervention in all cases where the peoples of a nation, as in Ireland, have by free vote of the people set up a republic and chosen a government to which they yield willing obedience."

FLAMES THREATEN ONTARIO VILLAGE WITH DESTRUCTION

Ottawa Ont., Aug. 4.—A fire was reported tonight to be sweeping through the village of Carp, in Carlton county, 29 miles west of here, threatening it with destruction. The village has a population of 200.

The fire started in a general store, burning that structure and spreading across to a drug store, bank and two dwellings, all of which were destroyed. Several other residences were reported to be on fire.

Telephonic communications with the town has been cut off and it is impossible to learn the extent of the damage. No casualties have yet been reported.

A special train, with fire fighting apparatus on board, was sent from here tonight to aid the village fire fighters.

RUN ON PONZI DWINDLES.

Boston, Aug. 4.—The run on the Exchange Securities company, headed by Charles Ponzi, who claims to have made millions by dealing in international reply coupons, dwindled noticeably today. Perhaps a hundred note-holders were on hand to present their claims, but the long line that has heretofore extended along the street for a block or more was missing.

SOVIET PEACE OFFER PROVES TO BE A RUSE

Simply Scheme to Gain More Power, Intercepted Message Shows

WARSAW IN DIRE NEED

Must Be Evacuated Soon, Experts Believe; Reds Seek to Cut Polish Sea Corridor

Washington, Aug. 4.—Ambassadors conditions will be submitted to Poland by the Soviet regime only to forward the good of the Bolshevik campaign, according to an order said to have been issued July 29 by the Soviet military staff on the northwestern front, intercepted by Polish agents and forwarded today to the Polish legation here.

According to Comrade Kramnik, commissioner of the Twelfth army, the order was signed by Shalin, member of the revolutionary committee of the Spilet front, northwest, and read as follows:

"We shall put forward the armistice conditions to Poland only to forward our good. Until a formal order is issued by the military staff, you can fight the Poles. Pay no attention to the obligatory conditions of the armistice."

Poles Report a Victory.

Paris, Aug. 4.—A Polish official communication received here this afternoon announces that southeast of Lomza Polish troops defeated the Eighteenth division of the Bolshevik forces which had crossed the Narw river, made 500 prisoners and took important booty. Between the Narw and the Bug, a desperate struggle continues.

The French military advisors at Warsaw have reported to the government here that the prime objective of the Bolshevik army operating against the Poles at the moment is to cut off the Polish sea corridor, including Danzig, rather than the capture of Warsaw, which they say would follow soon afterwards.

The cutting of the corridor also would mean the severing of the one direct railroad line extending from Danzig to Warsaw, over which the vast bulk of munitions for the Polish army is arriving, and also the other railroads running from Danzig into Poland. The Bolshevik cavalry was less than 30 miles from this railroad last Tuesday.

The experts add that the Bolsheviks are boasting that they will offer the territory of the Polish sea corridor to Germany as the Bolsheviks do not recognize the treaty of Versailles.

Must Soon Evacuate Warsaw.

Warsaw will have to be evacuated within two or three days, in the opinion of the French and British military experts there, and the government is expected to be moved within that period, probably to Cracow.

The report of the members of the military mission, telegraphed here last night, declared that the Polish army along the river Bug had retreated so precipitately that it did not even destroy the bridges behind it. The river was Warsaw's last line of defense.

A special Russian cavalry corps, the military men reported, was driving southwest along the border of the Alenstein district and had yesterday reached a point 30 miles from Mlawa, 31 miles northwest of Warsaw, on the only direct railroad to Danzig from the Polish capital. These cavalrymen were said to be headed through Mlawa into the Polish corridor to the Baltic, nearby, and thence to Pomerania.

The experts reported that the Polish forces were demoralized on the whole northern and central fronts, and were failing lack. The military men said they had virtually abandoned hope of the Poles making a stand now.

The Polish armistice delegates returned to Warsaw Tuesday night, and the Polish government has little hope of the speedy arranging of an armistice. The members of the Allied mission are convinced that the Soviet government does not intend to negotiate an armistice, they reported, and declared their belief that the Russians had set the next meeting of the negotiators for today at Minsk, knowing that it would be impossible for the Poles to arrive at that time, making a pretext for further delay.

The Polish government is undecided as to whether it will send emissaries to Minsk.

Poles Agree to Parley.

Warsaw, Aug. 4.—The Polish government today replied to the Russian Soviet government, agreeing to meet representatives of the Bolsheviks at Minsk as soon as is feasible.

This decision was reached after an all-day sitting of the council of defense and the Allied mission.

It is probable the Polish delegation will depart for Minsk Thursday.

London, Aug. 4.—A wireless dispatch from Berlin says the Russians have now advanced to within 65 miles of Warsaw on the east and to within about 40 miles east of Lemberg.

The dispatch adds that there is panic in Warsaw and that all the healthy people are fleeing.

Charge I. W. W. Control Farmer-Labor Party

Salt Lake City, Utah, Aug. 4.—Two leaders in Utah activities of the Farmer-Labor party tonight made public a joint letter of resignation to George Crosby, state chairman of the party, charging Industrial Workers of the World were in control of the party.

They were H. A. McCollum, state vice chairman, and Charles A. Weaver, assistant secretary of the state organization.

"THE CRANK" CAUGHT IN DRAMATIC FASHION

Identity of Man Believed to Have Kidnapped Coughlin Baby Not Yet Revealed

Philadelphia, Aug. 4.—Postal inspectors announced today that a search of the house where "the crank," under arrest in connection with the kidnapping of the 12 months' old son of Mr. and Mrs. George H. Coughlin of Norristown, Pa., said he resided, revealed no trace of the missing child. What else was found in the place that might lead to the recovery of the baby or connect "the crank" with the actual kidnapping, George A. Leonard, chief postal inspector, said he was not at liberty to reveal. The inspector added that the man under arrest, who the Pennsylvania state police and the postal authorities say they believe is the man wanted, is well-to-do and prominent in the community where he said he lived. Leonard declared he believed the child is in charge of persons in Philadelphia who do not know it is the kidnapped baby.

Until the authorities complete their examination of the prisoner and investigate the story he tells, his name will not be made public nor will the place where he is being held be revealed. We were arrested in Egg Harbor, N. J., Monday and is believed to be under detention in a South Jersey town.

To the public, the prisoner is known as "the crank," because he is suspected of being the man who wrote letters signed "the crank" to Coughlin, demanding $12,000 for the return of the child.

Postal Inspector Leonard confirmed the dramatic story of the methods used in trapping and capturing the man suspected of being the "kidnapper."

According to Leonard, the Coughlins recently received more letters demanding $10,000 for the return of the child. Correspondence with the writer was carried on through newspaper advertisements and it was arranged that Coughlin should drop the money in a box from a railroad train between Camden and Atlantic City, when he saw a white sheet flying from a tree.

The Pennsylvania state police and the postal authorities co-operated. One hundred and ten policemen in civilian clothes covered the railroad from Camden to Atlantic City, a distance of 56 miles. The distance was divided into sections, and each section numbered. Coughlin was given a map showing the sections and was instructed to display from the car window the number of the section when he threw out the box. He boarded the train, saw the white sheet a short distance from Egg Harbor, threw out the box, and displayed the figures 13, which were seen by state policemen along the railroad. They immediately went to that section. A man was observed to come from the woods, pick up something from the tracks, and disappear. He was traced through the timber and captured in Egg Harbor. Bloodhounds were put on the trail to prove the man was the right one, and they carried the scent to the spot where he was captured. State policemen, who traveled on a special train preceding the regular train, also figured in the capture.

The prisoner, Chief Leonard said, had more than $100 in his clothes. He is described as a man of good education.

RECOMMEND EMBARGO TO HELP RELIEVE TERMINAL CONGESTION

Washington, Aug. 4.—An embargo on all classes of railroad equipment in intra-city movement as a means of relieving terminal congestion was recommended today to the railroad managers by the commission on car service of the American Railroad association.

In a circular to the railroads, the commission on car service pointed out that such an embargo would eliminate switching and increase the car supply for road haul shipments. A permit system should be inaugurated, the circular continued, to protect the movement of such freight as cannot be handled by truck.

The embargo should, so far as practicable, be absolute against the use of coal cars in cross-town movement, the circular said.

Soviet government has agreed to the Lithuanian demand for the evacuation of Vilna, according to private advice received here. This agreement is made on condition that the Lithuanians place the railway material necessary for evacuation at the disposal of the commander of the Soviet fourth army.

PEACE AT HOME IS FIRST NEED, HARDING SAYS

Denounces Article X As Menace to Tranquility Among U.S. Citizens

COX READY FOR FIGHT

"We'll Win Because We're Right; Need Make No Defense," He Declares

Marion, Ohio, Aug. 4.—Striking at Article X as a menace to tranquil relations among American citizens, Senator Harding declared in a front porch speech today that if he had to choose, he "would rather have industrial and social peace at home than command the international peace of the world."

"It is folly," he said, "to think of blending Greek and Bulgarians, Italians and Slovaks, and making any of them rejoicingly American, when the land of adoption sits in judgment on the land from which he came."

"We need to be rescued from the visionary and fruitless pursuit of peace through super-government. I do not want Americans of foreign birth making their party alignments on what we mean to do for some nations in the Old World. Our need is concord, not the antipathies of long inheritance."

Congress Is Only Authority.

Taking up the league of nations, Senator Harding declared it to be the other extreme to a referendum on a proposed declaration of war. "I emphatically agree," he said, "that no authority other than congress may call our boys to battle. Accepting this truth, why make a covenant which violates the good faith of nations?"

"Suppose," he continued, "that under Article X a program of armed force is agreed upon, and the congress of the United States declines to respond. The executive would be charged upon to carry on a war without constitutional authority, or we should prove our compact no more than a scrap of paper. We are on the side of both safety and honor to hold for ourselves the decision of our obligations to the world."

The speech was delivered to a delegation from Wayne county, Ohio, who greeted the candidate with cheers and interrupted frequently with hand clapping as he delivered his thrusts at the league and pleaded for the preservation of nationality.

Will Stick to Front Porch.

In conference with another group of callers earlier in the day, the nominee declared his steadfast adherence to the front porch campaign policy, and indicated that he expected to make no speeches away from Marion until October. He declined an invitation brought by them to address the West Virginia Republican convention on August 12 and told them he was well satisfied with the progress of his program of speeches here.

It was said at his headquarters that his position would not suspend tentative plans under consideration for speaking trips later in the campaign, and that some definite decision might be expected at the conference of Republican chiefs to be held in New York tomorrow. Senator Harding will be represented there and with his views in mind the whole subject is to be carefully canvassed.

Cox Delivers "Fighting Message."

Dartmouth, Ohio, Aug. 4.—A fighting message to Democrats and Republicans was given by Governor Cox, the former Democratic presidential nominee, in an address today at a local Democratic picnic.

Speaking from the roped arena for boxing events on the picnic program, Governor Cox, avoiding definite issues, declared he would carry the offensive in "a considerable fight" for which he predicted success. Incidentally he promised that his address next Saturday accepting the presidential standard could be understood "even by school children."

"Boys, I'm ready for the fight," he declared to the cheering plaudits of several hundred members of the Gem City Democratic club of this city.

Democrats on the Offensive.

"We need make no defense," the governor continued. "Ours will be the offensive fight from the beginning to the end, and it will be a considerable fight. Make no mistake about that. I have the faith in me that there will be triumph of right principles this fall which will serve notice to Republican leaders for years to come. I was about to say that it would be a Democratic triumph. It will not be that. It will not be a victory in the partisan sense. It will be a triumph of the right."

"We've won before in the same kind of a fight. We'll win again because we're right."

"The opposition has been good to us, and the advantages that it has given will be reckoned days ahead of us. The opposition has adopted the course of doing what we farmers used to do, of ploughing around the stump, seeking to avoid the things that perplex."

"It is with the opposition expediency."

Emigration from Ireland Is Ordered Prohibited

Dublin, Aug. 4.—The decree of the Dail Eireann Irish Republican parliament prohibiting emigration from Ireland probably will have the effect of preventing the departure of many Irishmen for America and Australia, which at present are the most popular destinations for emigrants. The Sinn Feiners for some time have been discouraging young men from leaving the country, and this official action, announced yesterday, did not come as a surprise. Women have constituted the majority of Irish emigrants for several months.

JUDGE REFUSES TO RECEIVE JURY REPORT

Orders Probe of Leak By Which Indictments Were Published Before They Were Returned

Chicago, Aug. 4.—Federal Judge Alschuler today refused to receive a report from the grand jury containing indictments against 41 leaders in the recent rail strike and ordered the jury to go back into session and investigate a leak by which copies of the report reached newspapers before being presented to him.

The 41 strike leaders, it was reported, were indicted for conspiracy to violate the Lever act by interfering with the movement of food, coal and other necessities.

Newspapers at noon, two and one-half hours before the jury reported to court, published accounts of the indictments and what was said to be a list of those indicted.

Among those the grand jury listed as indicted are John Grunaw, president, and W. L. Bond, treasurer, of the Chicago Yardmen's association, and Harold Reddings, president of the United Engineers' association, the two unions which called the series of strikes during April.

They, with practically all the others mentioned by the newspapers, were arrested during the strikes, charged with conspiracy to violate the Lever law, and have been at liberty under bond. Grunaw was called before the grand jury to produce the records of his union.

NEW R. R. RATES ARE BINDING

Return Tickets and Mileage Books Bought Before Advance Goes Into Effect Will Not Be Valid

Washington, Aug. 4.—Return tickets and mileage books bought before the higher fares allowed railroads last Saturday become effective, will not be valid when the new schedules go into effect, it was said today by the Interstate Commerce commission.

How the commission will handle the problem of tickets purchased before the new fares are made operative for use after their effective date, is now being worked out, it was said.

Commission officials emphasized, however, that travel for the present prices would not be permitted after the effective date of the new levels.

It is expected that an order will be issued permitting the railroads to refund the amount paid for return coupons or unused mileage and communication books, or that passengers will be allowed to use them upon payment of the additional charges authorized.

Unless some such method is adopted, it was pointed out that tickets could be purchased for future use in large quantities, which would result in postponing the effective date of the higher fares.

MAKE N. Y. GREATEST PORT.

Poughkeepsie, Aug. 4.—The New York State Association of Retail Grocers, meeting here today, adopted a resolution calling on the local, state and national authorities to bend every effort to have New York take its rightful place as the center of commerce and the greatest port in the world.

Cooperative buying was the cause of a spirited debate at the morning session. Various arguments pro and con were offered.

This afternoon, the delegates took of a clambake at Kohlanis park.

pure and simple. They attempt to appeal to this group, that group, and other groups, without the slightest consideration of the great menace thereby to the perpetuity of our government. Our cause is the straight course."

"Teddy" to Campaign for Harding.

New York, Aug. 4.—Colonel Theodore Roosevelt will campaign for the National Republican ticket from the latter part of the month until election day, Republican national headquarters here announced today. He will make two preliminary addresses, one in New Jersey and the other in St. Lawrence county, N. Y., and will then go to Maine, where he will make several speeches prior to the election.

From Maine, Colonel Roosevelt will go to Indiana and thence to Kentucky, where he will make a horseback trip of at least one week through the mountain regions in company with Governor Morrow. After the Kentucky campaign, he will travel through virtually every state west of the Mississippi river.

HAL CHASE DENIES BRIBERY.

San Jose, Aug. 4.—Emphatic denial of bribery charges made by President W. H. McCarthy and Charles A. Baum was expressed by Hal Chase in a telephone conversation today from Los Angeles. He said the talk of bribery was "foolish."

PRESIDENT ACTS TO HALT LANDING OF CABLE HERE

Destroyers to Prevent Unauthorized Move By Western Union

MONOPOLY IS FEARED

U.S. Will Investigate Before Giving Permit Which Means British Control of Wires

Washington, Aug. 4.—Five destroyers are patrolling the entrance to the Miami Fla., harbor under orders from President Wilson to prevent, by force if necessary, the landing of a cable the Western Union Telegraph company is having laid from Barbados, a British possession in the West Indies.

A British cable ship, the Colon, has been chartered by the Western Union company to land the American end of the cable, which would connect with a British cable line from the Barbados to South America. At the state department it was stated today that the British embassy had been asked to inform the master of the ship that such a landing would be in violation of American law. Officials explained that there was no significance in the fact that the vessel was British; that she probably was the only cable craft available to the American company when she was chartered.

Permit Not Yet Given.

Work on the cable line from Barbados was begun last summer. Some time ago the Western Union company applied to the state department for an executive permit to land the wire at Miami, but officials said action on it had been delayed pending the holding of the international communications congress called to meet in Washington September 15.

A British cable company, it was explained, now has a monopoly of cable rights in Brazilian waters. An American concern desires to construct a direct cable line from the United States to Brazil and it was stated that the American government desired to know before issuing the permit to the Western Union company, whether the arrangements entered into by that company with the British concern, the Western Cable company, controlling the line from Barbados to Brazil, would add to this monopoly.

In this connection, it was asserted that at the forthcoming international communications congress, the whole theory of international communications was to be examined "in a very different temper" from that existing in the past.

There were reports today that after the Western Union company filed its application for a permit, the state department requested that a copy of the contract with the British cable concern also be filed and that the company had refused to comply. No information as to this was obtainable at the department.

Direct Line Is Preferred.

While there is a direct cable line between the United States and the Pacific coast of South America, cable communication between this country and Brazil is possible now only by way of London unless the messages are sent to the West coast and relayed overland. A direct cable line to Brazil, officials said, is much to be preferred as it would afford a means of faster and probably cheaper communication.

Some officials expressed doubt today whether there was a law requiring permits for the landing of cables in the United States, but when questioned as to this, state department officials declared emphatically that there was such a law.

The orders from the President which resulted in the destroyers being assigned to patrol the three-mile limit off Miami were issued, it was said, after reports had reached the government that the company planned to complete connection of the line. Secretary Daniels was advised of the orders upon his return from Alaska. In announcing today that the fire destroyers had been assigned to patrol duty, he said the instructions from the President were to use any means necessary to prevent the landing of the cable. Rear Admiral Docker, commandant at Key West, is in command of the destroyer force, but Secretary Daniels said he would be replaced by his senior, Rear Admiral Anderson, commandant at Charleston, S. C.

BURGLAR GANG LEADERS HELD.

Rochester, Aug. 4.—With the arrest in a Hartford street hotel tonight of eight men, the Rochester police say they believe they have in custody the major part of the gang responsible for recent store and freight car burglaries in Rochester and other parts of western New York in which goods valued at many thousands of dollars have been taken.

In the first game of the Twilight league, played last evening at Neahwa park, the Y. M. C. A. nine was victorious by a score of 2 to 1. The "Y" had a new pitcher on the mound in the person of West and credit for the victory is largely due to his work, he striking out 15 men in the seven innings of the game. The Wanderers did not exhibit good team work and evidently had had little practice. All three runs were made in the second inning on errors by players on both teams. Manager Crouse, of the Wanderers, expects to turn the tables when the two teams come together again and says there will be a different story to tell.

The second game on the league schedule will be played this evening after the Cubs-E. J. A. A. battle. The opposing teams are the Reds and Shopmen.

MILFORD VICTORIOUS

Defeat Locals 6-3 in Many Error Game—E-J Here Today for Fourth Game of $1,000 Series.

The Milford base ball aggregation, which was practically the Bonacker team of Albany, packed up their bats, balls and gloves, climbed into their machines and entered the city yesterday for the purpose of getting revenge for the defeat Oneonta administered them at Milford last week. They got the revenge all right, for they had the Cubs just where they wanted them, practically every inning of the game and came out of the battle at the head of a 6 to 3 tally. There were six errors made by Milford and five by Oneonta, but they were well placed and the game was not won or lost because of them. Had no runs been scored except what can be charged against errors, the score would have been 2 to 1 in favor of the visitors. Duka started on the mound for Oneonta, but was hit heavily and in the sixth after two singles and a double had been obtained from his offerings, Weidman chased him to an early shower and put Kinnere in, and he held the visiting crowd to two hits the remainder of the fray.

H. Hickey went the entire distance on the hill for the Milfordites and he is some pitcher, keeping the six hits he allowed Oneonta well separated and at points where they did the locals the least good. Phelps, first clouter on the Milford lineup, started off the first frame by driving a triple into center field, scoring when Silvianna hit to third. Baird walked to the plate and Brodie called time while he made a presentation speech. He handed a solid gold fountain pen to Baird, formerly of the Cubs, but yesterday playing in a Milford uniform. The pen was a gift of the management and players of the Oneonta base ball club in appreciation of services of Baird, who leaves in a day or two for Texas. Baird showed his appreciation by hitting the ball hard to Duka for a single when the drive bounced off the pitcher's glove, and putting Silvianna on third. Cobb—no, not Ty—drove the offering he liked best to Duka, who returned the ball to the plate in a hurry for the second out. D. Hickey was out unassisted by Marone. In the third by means of an error, an attempted sacrifice which rolled safe and a double sack hit brought in another for Milford and none for Oneonta.

In the final half of the fourth round Kibbe got a single. Brown tried to sacrifice himself for the good of the

DONLIN RAPS FRIENDLY STUFF BY BIG PLAYERS.

Sometimes a fellow can see a lot more from the outside looking in than from the inside looking out. Mike Donlin sees an influence creeping into baseball that is hurting the game. He says:

"What I don't like about baseball today—and I'm on the level when I say it—is that there are too many dollars and too many automobiles in the game. They don't sharpen their spikes on the bench any more and there are too many handshakes."

"Nix on that handshakes stuff! It's all right when you're been away from home for a long time and you meet the lad. That's the time to throw out the mitt—but the people in the stands don't want to see the players hanging over each other's shoulders during batting practice and acting like buddies."

team, but was unsuccessful as the ball rolled for a single. Kibbe got too far off of second and was caught out before he could regain the sack. B. Weeks hit a line drive to Cobb for the second out. Duka was passed. With two on and a like number down, Dural pushed the bat across a pitched ball for three quarters of the circuit, tying the score.

The Cubs put another across the platter in the eighth. Kibbe, first up, hit one to Phelps which the latter misjudged, went to second when B. Weeks hit an easy grounder to second, which the fielder gathered in, but the out was too easy and he tossed the ball over Cobb's head, bringing in the run as stated above and putting the Oneonta twirler on the middle cushion. Dural could not find another triple sack ball and grounded out.

By means of heavy hitting, a couple of errors and some wild running, Milford gathered in three more in the sixth and one more for good measure in the seventh, placing the game on ice.

Today the fast E. J. baseball crowd will be here for the fourth game of the $1,000 series. If they win today, they take the money home with them. Will they do it? Can they do it? Come out and see the Cubs turn the tables on them.

Baseball in Australia.

Indications are that the forthcoming winter season of the New South Wales Baseball association will be one of the most interesting in the annals of the game there. Forty teams of more or less proficiency will compete. Twenty-five students from the University of California will be touring Australia during the season, and it is probable that games will be arranged which will give local experts an opportunity of testing their skill against genuine American amateurs and of comparing standards of play.

WELLS BRIDGE BUDGET.

Local Boys Trim Mt. Upton Baseball Nine by Score of 11 to 10.

Wells Bridge, Aug. 4.—The local baseball nine scored another victory last Saturday, when the boys went to Mt. Upton and trimmed the town team there to the tune of 11 to 10. Dewey Goodrich, the local heavy hitter, made his usual home run and was much applauded by Wells Bridge fans who attended the game. The contest was a close one throughout and the victory is a creditable one for the local boys. The Mt. Upton nine is expected to come here for a return game next Saturday.

Ice Cream Social Friday.

The Ladies' Aid society of the Methodist church will hold an ice cream social on M. G. Springsteen's lawn Friday evening. All are invited.

Eugene Earl Remembered on Birthday.

A pleasant event took place last Sunday at the Quaker inn, when a birthday party was given for Eugene Earl, who celebrated his fifty-eighth anniversary on that day. A number of relatives and friends were present and an enjoyable social time was spent. The guests departed wishing Mr. Earl many more happy birthdays.

ELIJAH B. PUTNAM DEAD.

Respected Worcester Man, Veteran of Civil War, Passes Away.

Worcester, Aug. 4.—Elijah B. Putnam, practically a life-long resident of Worcester and one of its most esteemed citizens, passed away today after a long illness. He suffered a stroke of paralysis a year ago and had gradually failed since then, his decline being more marked during the last four months. Carcinoma of the stomach was given as the immediate cause of his death. Funeral services will take place Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the late home. Rev. W. D. Jones, pastor of the Worcester Presbyterian church, will officiate, and burial will be in Maple Grove cemetery.

Mr. Putnam was born in Montgomery county on March 1, 1844, a son of Philip and Katherine (Keller) Putnam, but had spent most of his life in this section, coming here in his youth and marrying Josephine Bigelow on March 2, 1870. During the Civil War, he served for about six months on the battleship Quaker. He was a man with a wide circle of friends in this vicinity and his presence will truly be missed. He was an honest and sincere citizen and often lent his assistance to his neighbors when it was needed.

THE WEEK AT MORRIS.

Nelson Miller Sells House.—Mrs. John Daniels Kicked by Colt.

Morris, Aug. 4.—Nelson Miller has sold his house and lot on Mill street, near the fair grounds, to E. A. Mumbulo, who now lives on Henry M. Williams' farm, near Hillington cemetery, and has purchased of Mrs. F. G. Leonard her house and lot on Liberty street. Possession given October 1.

Former Pastor Visits Morris.

Last Saturday, Rev. Williams and wife visited Morris, where he was a pastor of the Universalist church about 45 years ago. They called on Mrs. H. S. Matteson, who lives in the house they occupied when they lived here, which belonged to Mrs. Matteson's parents. They were accompanied by their son-in-law, Mr. Clark and wife of Delhi. Mr. Williams must have noticed many changes since his former residence here.

AMERICA'S TIMBER PROBLEM

The amount of timber cut each year from the forests of the United States is about three times the annual growth, is declared in the August number of Commerce Monthly. Lack of an adequate national forestry policy, together with speculation in privately owned timber lands and the absence of cooperation within the industry itself, have all combined rapidly to reduce the country's timber resources. Provisions for reforestation up to the present have been entirely inadequate and the oncoming growth is ordinarily of inferior species and grade.

It is estimated that the United States originally possessed 850,000,000 acres of timberland, of which only about 845,000,000 acres remain. Commerce Monthly says. The original forest acreage contained approximately 5,200 billion board feet of merchantable timber. The latest estimate of timber remaining is 2,816 billion feet. Of this difference about one-third has been lumbered, one-third destroyed by forest fires and one-third wasted.

The most striking characteristic of the American lumber industry has been its lack of cohesion. This has led to a maladjustment of lumber production to the requirements of its market. Though the industry is at the present time prosperous, it contains elements of instability. It has been dominated by a strong individualism, and though it has been very American in a way, it has been backward in developing common ideas about its products. Coordination has been made difficult by the fact that it is not economically feasible to assemble the raw material—timber—at a few points where manufacturing may be concentrated, as it is possible in the iron and steel industry and others.

The principal handicap of the lumber industry as it exists in the Pacific northwest, and also to a large degree in the south, is the burden of timberland investments. In the last quarter of the nineteenth century lavish grants of public lands and loans, poorly defined and ill-enforced land laws allowed the concentration of timberlands in private ownership. A rapid and enormous capitalization of stumpage took place, largely with borrowed funds. The result of these conditions has been that the lumber cut has tended increasingly to be governed by financial requirements instead of demands of the market. This movement to unload stumpage while the opportunity for profit exists is the most serious cause of overproduction in the west.

The government's policy of alienation of its timberlands has resulted in only about one-fifth of the present stand being publicly owned, whereas in 1870 the government owned approximately three-fourths of the country's timber.

"According to Henry S. Graves, formerly Chief of the United States Forest Service, if we began at the present time to protect out-cut-over lands from fire and use wholly practical forestry methods to insure reproduction after logging, we could secure in the next fifty to sixty years an annual production of over 60,000,000 feet of lumber per year, without lessening our forest capital."

"HAL" IN TROUBLE AGAIN.

San Francisco, Aug. 4.—Hal Chase, former Pacific coast and major league baseball player, today was barred by W. H. McCarty, president of the Pacific Coast league, from all the parks of the league. Hal Maggart, outfielder of the Salt Lake club, at the same time, was released unconditionally by W. H. Lane, president of the Salt Lake club.

President McCarty, in a statement, said Chase last week at Los Angeles approached Charles A. Baum, Salt Lake pitcher, with a "proposition to make some easy money." Chase told Baum, the president said, that he had some friends who were willing to bet large sums of money on the games "providing they had the edge."

It seems to have become a habit with trolley number 61 to get itself in trouble at the Market and Broad street corner. A few days ago it took the wrong switch and left the track completely but was returned by its own power, yesterday it repeated the process, but was stopped before it was on the pavement, although it had wedged itself in such a way that it could not be hauled or pushed out and was only returned to its track after the brakes had been loosened.

EIGHTIETH STATE FAIR PROMISES NEW RECORD

FARM MACHINERY EXHIBIT AND DEMONSTRATIONS OF GREAT VALUE TO PUBLIC.

All Products Useful in Agriculture to Be Put to Real Tests for Benefit of Farmers—Attractions Will Be Best Obtainable in the Land—The Great Lock-lear to Be Seen Again.

The New York State Fair will celebrate this year its eightieth anniversary. Unfolded during these long years in the development of this institution is a panorama which constitutes a series of epochs illustrating the gradual but certain transition from the man-made farm of three-quarters of a century ago to the machine-made farms, with their great productiveness, of today.

It is a story of the progress made in all branches of agriculture, science and industry necessary to the future of the United States.

The resources of the country were called upon to win a world war. The resources of the country today are taxed to prevent world starvation. The resources of New York State are being stimulated as never before to meet the demand for farm products in a crisis where the progress of the nation is of serious concern.

The State Fair has developed from an amusement center to an educational institution with far-reaching results. Beginning on September 13 and continuing through September 18 this exposition, to which is attracted annually so many thousands of husbandmen and their families, will provide more agricultural and industrial sensations than has been experienced during any week of its existence.

Here will be demonstrated all of the useful implements in the operation of the present day farm. The shortage of farm labor and the demand for increased production are matters of which the members of the State Fair Commission have taken cognizance for several years. In their deliberation the members have sought to find a solution for one of the great problems which confronts the state, and they feel that the issue will be more easily met if there is cohesion among the men to whom is left that vital matter of increased production.

The idea of the commission is to prepare a display of farm machinery and farm implements which will include a practical demonstration of each and every machine created for the purpose of shortening labor and aiding production. There is no type of machinery that will be missing from the State Exposition.

It has been always the aim of the Commission to provide means for demonstrating the various machines for the economic development of the soil to the harvesting processes, which for many years the lack of adequate space prevented.

Big Demonstration Field. Fortunately the members of the legislature, who have always taken a personal interest in the progress of the State Fair, voted an appropriation three years ago which made it possible to acquire eighty acres of land as an addition to the fair grounds, which have been seeded and upon which the farm machinery exhibitors will be turned to show their best during the six days of the exposition.

Over these rich broad acres, in the presence of thousands of deeply interested spectators, will sweep the coughing tractors, the swift moving cutters and the almost human threshing machines to illustrate the last word in machinery for the planting, growing and harvesting of grain.

There is no farmer in the state who can afford to miss the advantages of this demonstration. During all of the years he has been a unit in agricultural production he has never had an opportunity to witness such a spectacle as the State Fair Commission has prepared for him. The education he obtains at this farm machinery carnival will mean an increase in his annual bank account, while the state and country at large will benefit in richer and better crops which tend to decrease the present cost of living.

There are millions invested in the live stock business of New York State. When a live stock magnate will pay nearly a hundred thousand dollars for a sire for his herd it provides an example of the development of the cattle breeding industry. The greatest and most productive cattle, swine, sheep and horses are raised in this state.

From the state have been shipped the finest products of the various bovine breeds to restore the strain in countries devastated by the war. To those who are interested in dairy cattle there is no better opportunity to study the history and the record of cattle than may be found at this State Fair.

And when a breeder covets to ship the most valuable members of his herds to Syracuse he must be assured of their safety. One of the reasons it is possible to examine the highest bovine types at the Syracuse Exposition is the confidence displayed by the breeders and the dairymen in the sanitary condition of the State Fair cattle buildings. Their structure was erected at a cost means to safeguard the cattle from sickness and disease. While the competition for the blue ribbons of the State Fair is of the keenest, there is an added incentive to exhibit in Syracuse in the value of the cash prizes.

State Institution Exhibits. The building erected for the demonstration of the products of the various state institutions was given over during the last two years to a governmental army and navy exhibit. This year the state institutions will come back into their own. The citizens of the state are intensely interested in the institutions in the state. They pay the taxes which support these institutions and they desire to know how the money is expended.

In this commodious structure will be seen a Conservation Commission exhibit, a Highway Commission exhibit, the system of waterways under the department of the State Engineer, the products of the Forestry College, exhibits by the institutions for the indigent and the disabled, the products from the educational institutions of the state—in fact, every feature developed by the various state departments.

It is expected that there will be an unusual large attendance of rural visitors the first day of the fair. This will be Syracuse Day, which is in charge of a committee of citizens appointed by the Mayor of Syracuse. The heads of the manufacturing interests of Syracuse, together with the merchants of the city, are interested in making the first day a record day. It will be a record for attendance as well as a record in the athletic annals of the city. Each factory will have a team of trained athletes in competition in numerous athletic events. During the day the famous navigator and acrobat of the skies, Lieutenant Omer Locklear, will perform his hair raising feat of leaving one aeroplane for another, one of the most thrilling sky spectacles ever produced.

The fleetest and best bred horses in the country are entered for the Grand Circuit races, which will be seen in the finale of sports for the day.

There will be big fields and these equine thoroughbreds will race for rich purses in events which today are historic in the annals of the Grand Circuit. For five days the trotters and pacers driven by the most expert reinmen in the world will be a feature of the fair.

DELAWARE COUNTY'S LOSS.

Has lost 2,801 Inhabitants in the Last Decade.

A dispatch received at The Star office last evening from the Washington Bureau of the Associated Press states that the population of Delaware county according to the new census is 42,774. Decrease since 1910 of 2,801, a loss of 6.1 per cent.

Delaware in Common with the other agricultural counties of the state has suffered by the departure of the young people from the farms for the cities and villages, the loss being largest in the towns having no large villages. The detailed figures which will be made public later will no doubt show that many of the villages have gained in population.

PESKY BED BUGS

Bedbugs lay an average of seven eggs per day. Under favorable conditions they hatch in five days of which two-thirds are females. They mature to adult size and are capable of laying in four weeks. How many bedbugs would you have in a year if you left one female or egg unmolested for one year? To rid the pesky bedbug, you can readily see how necessary it is to use a preparation that will kill the eggs as well as the live ones. P. D. Q. has been demonstrated by the leading Hospitals, Hotels and Railroad Companies that the safest and most economical way to stop future generations of bedbugs, roaches, fleas and ants is to use the new discovery.

Putting the Map Together

(National Crop Improvement Service.)

"A NATION, like an individual, cannot afford to neglect the attaining of good will. No one state in our blessed union of 48, can afford to overlook the fact that it is but one unit depending upon all the others—one for all and all for one. Whatever it possesses of special merit is marketable only in the degree that it caters to the good will of all outside itself. No state can stand alone," says Mr. Frank Bauckes, V. P. American Steel & Wire Co.

"We must not expect intelligent well-schooled young men and women to stick around the squalid, mud-bound farm or village. It is too much to ask. Ignorance of the beyond has heretofore held them, but holds them no longer. So therefore, it is up to the cities to see that the state does everything possible to make the interior homeland attractive.

"This can be done only by building dry, hard, indestructible reinforced concrete highways so that they may go to the world, and the world may go to them freely and untrammelled. Automobiles and people will then flow in and out, and the most lonesome farm will then be brought into lively contact with the world.

"Distance is being annihilated. All centers must be connected with good roads and always-passable feeder roads must lead in from every district, however remote. We can then be sure that our population will maintain its balance in town and country."

GUERNSEY BREEDERS TO MEET

Interesting and Profitable Picnic Plans for Summer Meeting Next Week Thursday.

As was announced last week, the annual meeting and picnic of the Otsego County Guernsey Cattle club will be held at the home of Frank McFee on the state road a mile north of Oneonta, on Thursday, August 12. The club extends an invitation to all breeders and dairymen of the county. The program will be given on standard (old) time. In the morning at about 11 a. m., Ralph Q. Smith will conduct a judging contest for boys and girls. Any boy or girl in the county is eligible and in view of the fact that prizes are offered at the fairs of the county this fall, it is suggested that the most be made of this opportunity to secure practice.

The Home Economics department of the farm bureau will assist in making the day enjoyable by serving lunch, which will consist of sandwiches, salad, coffee, milk, ice cream, cake and fruit. These viands will be on sale at moderate prices.

Immediately after luncheon, those present will assemble on the lawn for the addresses which have been arranged by the executive committee of the club. A few moments will be taken by Floyd S. Barlow on the subject of "Present Day Guernsey Records." R. H. VanSick has as his theme "The Corner Stone of Guernsey Success." Miss Ellen VanCleave will present some very interesting plans on the subject, "Uses of Milk in the Home," and George M. White, president of the Green County Farm bureau, will use as his subject, "My Experience as a Guernsey Breeder." Mr. White is an enthusiastic breeder who has done the trick himself in a manner which can be copied by any man who has the desire, and what he will say should be of interest to all Otsego county dairymen.

The excellent dairy barn and fine cattle belonging to Mr. McFee, make in themselves a show well worth the while of any dairymen to travel a long distance to see. Mr. McFee will show the animals in the yards after the speaking is over. You are invited.

—Cubs vs. E. J. A. A. at Neahwa park at 4:15 today.

—The Cuban Glanz, the famous colored ball team, has been booked for a game with Weidman's Cubs in Oneonta on Monday, August 16th.

—Company G band will give an open-air concert Saturday evening of this week on the lawn in front of the Wilber residence, corner Main street and Ford avenue.

—The proceeds of the band concert and ice cream social on Monday evening at St. Mary's lawn went to the church, the City band donating its services and not sharing in the profits of the project.

—Every ball fan should turn out for the game between the Oneonta Cubs and Endicott-Johnson this afternoon at Neahwa park at 4:15. If the visitors win today's game, they will carry home the $1,000 purse.

—The summer directory of the Orsago and Delaware Telephone company was distributed to patrons yesterday. The book, which is as near to date as the brief time of printing would admit, contains approximately 2,025 names of patrons of the Oneonta exchange.

Meetings Today.

Regular meeting of Autumn lodge this evening at 7:30. Drill team wear white. Initiation.

Regular review of Oneonta tent of the Macabees tonight at 8 o'clock. Extra rehearsal of Company G band this evening at 8 o'clock sharp.

City Officers Reward.

At the last meeting of the common council it was voted to offer a reward of $10 for evidence that would lead to the arrest and conviction of the person or persons who have or may in the future break or otherwise damage the globes or electric lights in the parks, streets and other public places of the city. It is hoped to stop the breaking of globes in Huntington park, much of which is now in darkness because the globes have been broken and intentionally. Public spirit should result in a report to the authorities by any person knowing of offenders.

Strange Cars in the City.

Two cars were in the city Tuesday which attracted a lot of attention. Each bore an Ontario number plate which is in itself a novelty, but they were of a kind which is very seldom seen. They are called the MacLaughlin six and look much like the popular Buick Light Six, being called the MacLaughlin Buick by some. They were undoubtedly of Canadian manufacture and were driven by tourists from that province.

West End Baptists Hold Sale.

The Oneonta City band gave a very pleasing concert on the lawn of the West End Baptist church Tuesday evening for the benefit of that society. Ice cream was served and a splendid sum of money was realized. It is to the credit of the band men that they give such concerts with little remuneration for such a commendable cause. The West Enders were out in large numbers and gave the church their support.

Attention, Lutherans: Picnic Today.

The fifteenth annual picnic of the Lutheran Sunday school will be held in Neahwa park today, Aug. 5. All members and friends are asked to come and enjoy the occasion. There will be various games and amusements and plenty of good things to eat.

The Sunday school and friends will assemble on the church lawn at 1:30 p. m., sharp, and proceed to the picnic grounds. Supper will be served at 5:30 p. m. All are asked to bring sandwiches, cake, lemons, sugar, etc., unless otherwise solicited by committee in charge of refreshments.

FIELD DAY AND PICNIC.

Goodyear Lake Association Plans Big Time for August 22.

The Goodyear Lake association will hold a field day and picnic on August 22 in the grove at Cliffside, starting at 10 o'clock in the morning and continuing through the evening. E. M. Roman, president of the association, has been in conference with the various committees during the past two days to arrange for the first field day ever held at Goodyear lake and it is expected that the event will be held annually. Much interest is being displayed in the project by campers, property owners and all others interested in the lake.

The committees in charge of the arrangements are preparing a program of land and water contests and amusements for the grove, the various camps, and the water. Nothing will be overlooked which will make the day a success. Hundreds of illuminated floats consisting of boards whereon are placed candles within varicolored tissue paper dipped in paraffin will be set afloat in the evening along the entire length of the lake. Illuminated boats will also be employed, every camp will be decorated, large American flags will be draped about the grove, and a huge bonfire will be built on land owned by J. G. Hoyt on the point near C. E. Carrington's camp at Cliffside.

An interesting program of land and water events is being arranged consisting of boat races, canoe races, diving contests, ball games, sparring on water, swimming races, both distance and speed, potato races, three-legged races and many others. The picnic will be held in the grove at 1 o'clock. The day is not for property owners alone, but for all who are interested in the lake, their friends and families, and it is hoped that there will be a large attendance. The Boy Scouts who will camp at Cliffside next week will assist in the preparations.

BIG BATTLE ON FOR TODAY.

Cubs' Last Hope with Fast E. J. A. A. Team This Afternoon.

Today will be the Cubs' last hope to stay in the race with the fast E. J. A. A. team of Johnson City in the $1,000 purse series. The E. J. A. A. have won three straight victories, two of which were very close scores. "Bill" Fisher no doubt will use his best ace against the Cubs in this afternoon's game in the person of "Bill" Donahue. Manager Weidman probably will pitch Davis, with Kibbe in reserve. Fisher, the international league catcher, will hold up Donahue and it is expected that Boylan, Oneonta's young catcher, will be behind the plate for the Cubs. If the Oneonta Cubs have any of the breaks in today's game, it is a safe bet that Fisher's tribe will not have a walk-away.

The game this afternoon will be called at 4:15 sharp, and it is hoped that a large crowd of fans will be on hand to back up the Cubs.

Watch the Gardens Grow.

The ambitious persons of the city who started gardens on land furnished by the city authorities are looking forward to a time of plenty this winter. All gardens which received even a small amount of cultivation are showing splendid returns. Crops as a rule are unusually late this year, but this does not seem to effect the potato and other garden tubers. The city gardens are mostly being kept in fine shape by their owners and should be a help in cutting down the high cost of living when the cold weather arrives.

Mrs. Fay's Condition Favorable.

The condition of Mrs. W. H. Fay, who on Tuesday suffered serious injuries in an auto accident, and who was taken to the Fox Memorial hospital, was last evening reported to be very encouraging. Though she suffered severe bruises and contusions, there are no indications of fracture of the skull. She is entirely conscious, and there is good reason to expect her early and complete recovery.

I'm Doing It in Oneonta.

It's better to be kind to the living than to say it with flowers to the dead. I've been doing this for 31 years and with the help of Uncle Sam and the state I've helped little fellows to safely make small amounts roll up to several million dollars for homes and farms and have made rent money pay for them. I'm now starting a new big bunch of them to thus safely roll up half a million more. Watch me grow and do good. I'm the safe and sane Oneonta Building and Loan association.

NEW BASEBALL LEAGUE

Cubs and Other Semi-Pro Teams of Vicinity Expect to Arrange for League Next Season.

If present plans do not miscarry, a last semi-professional baseball league, comprised of leading teams in this vicinity, will be formed next season. Binghamton baseball men have started the talk, which is summarized by the Sun's sport writer as follows: "A semi-professional baseball league similar in construction to the Interstate Basketball league, has been proposed for next season by Director Bill Fischer of the E. J. A. A. and other prominent baseball enthusiasts in this vicinity.

The tentative outline for the new organization includes eight teams. The personnel of the circuit as proposed would include the best semi-professional teams in this vicinity, such as the Elmira Arties, the Shepard Electric of Montour Falls, the Oneonta Cubs, the Endicott-Johnson corporation, the Binghamton Imperials, Bill Raffits' Owego outfit, the Cortland Moose and the Corona Typewriter team of Groton.

Plans will be started immediately for the organization of such a circuit and the promoters of such will endeavor to interest the managers of the above named teams in this proposition and start the wheels of progress in motion.

With baseball drawing immense crowds in every one of the towns and good teams representing every community, there is no reason why such an organization should not thrive. And when one comes to think about it, why shouldn't it thrive? Baseball never saw such a prosperous season as it is enjoying right now and the seeds of the game predict an even more prosperous season next year. With such conditions existing why not take advantage of the times and get together on a Class AA semi-professional circuit?

Fischer approached "Duffer" Weidman on the subject during the game at Johnson field on Sunday and the Oneonta manager fell in step with the proposition heartily. Fischer will likely take the matter up with the Elmira Artie manager and the promoters of the other teams mentioned and with good backing such a league ought to thrive. It's worth taking a chance on anyway.

Evidence Completed

The evidence in the matter of the wage adjustment of the trolley employees has been completed. As soon as the stenographer completes the minutes and gets them in shape, they will be turned over to the arbitrators and an early decision is expected. The decision rests with Hon. Merritt Bridges of Morris, the other two arbitrators being representatives of the company and of the men. It is expected that it will require at least 10 days in which to complete the minutes.

Attention.

The monthly meeting of the Woman's Foreign Missionary society of the Methodist Episcopal church will be held at Neahwa park on Friday afternoon at 2:30, after which the King's Herald and Little Light Bearers with their mothers will be entertained at a picnic supper. All members of the society please bring sandwiches and a covered dish and help entertain the kiddies. Bring no dishes.

HOUSE AND CHURCH ON WHEELS.

Mr. and Mrs. John Fulton, Touring Country, Stop in Oneonta.

An unique and novel conveyance appeared in the city last evening in the form of the Fulton Gospel Auto, in which Mr. and Mrs. John Fulton of Harrisburgh, Pa., accompanied by Steven Custard of Binghamton and a chauffeur, are touring the eastern part of the country. It is a fully equipped and "very unusual house on wheels." They left Harrisburgh some time ago and are aiming to reach the Atlantic coast, presumably at Boston, about the middle of the month, when they will turn down the coast and follow it to New York, returning to Harrisburgh across New Jersey and Pennsylvania. Their purpose is to hold open-air religious services in most of the large cities which they pass through.

Their living room, traveling coach and church are all carried by a large Bessemer truck chassis, which only weighs a little more than 1 1/2 tons. The body is twenty feet long by ten feet wide and high enough to permit the average person to stand. It is fitted with windows and electric lights for night travel, has a conveniently arranged book case, which is supplied with a complete library. It also boasts of a refrigerator, lavatory, cooking cupboard, handy clothes-presses, Pullman beds for five persons and a Pullman dining table. At the rear is a large platform which is used as a pulpit during the meetings and, when the weather is hot and uncomfortable as a sleeping porch. It appeared to be a very neat and well arranged house discharging the wheels and attracted no little attention here.

Sniffin & VanCleft to Move.

The Sniffin & VanCleft Millinery shop, Mrs. George Thomas and Mrs. Zillah VanCleft, proprietors, now located at 248 Main street, will occupy the new building being constructed on Chestnut street by E. W. Spencer and Lavern Palmer about September 1. The exterior of the building is practically completed, but the front is not yet in place and the interior is unfinished. A removal sale is now in progress at the millinery store. Mrs. VanCleft leaves Sunday for New York to buy fall stock which will be placed on sale at the new establishment after the opening.

Real Estate Transfers.

City Judge Frank C. Huntington has purchased of Frank Gurney the double house at 33-35 East street, possession to be given about Sept. 1. Mr. Gurney has purchased of E. W. Anibal the house and lot at 2 Irving place, which Mr. Anibal is soon to vacate when he removes to New Jersey.

Reo five-passenger touring car, in good condition, fine finish; two new tires. A bargain for quick sale, or would exchange for a light roadster. Will demonstrate any time. H. M. Cowan Jr., Hobart.

DEATH.

Charles O. Rounds.

Charles O. Rounds, a valued conductor in the employ of the Delaware and Hudson company, died at his home, 25 Ford avenue, at 11:40 o'clock Wednesday morning. He had been suffering from indigestion for the past two weeks, but had considerably improved in health and was reading in bed when, with scarcely a moment's warning, he fell back upon the pillows and expired. The immediate cause of his death was heart trouble.

Prayer service will be held at the house on Friday afternoon and the body will be taken on the evening train to Binghamton, where the funeral will be held and interment take place on Saturday. The service at Binghamton will be in charge of the Masonic fraternity.

Mr. Rounds was born in Binghamton Feb. 18, 1874, and was a son of the late Thomas W. and Harriet Rounds of that city. From early life he was engaged in railroad work and was for several years a conductor on the Boston and Maine with headquarters at Rotterdam Junction. About nine years ago he removed to Oneonta and has since been an employee of the D. & H. company. He was a member of the Thomas Dickson division, No. 171, of the Order of Railway Conductors, at Mechanicville; also of St. George's Masonic lodge, chapter and commandery of Schenectady, of Katurah temple of Binghamton, and of the L. E. and C. Mutual Protective association of Oneonta. He was a member of the First Presbyterian church of this city and a most worthy man, whose life was evidence of the sincerity of his faith.

The deceased is survived by his wife, formerly Miss Susie Jencks of Binghamton, to whom he was married in 1911; by one son, Thomas Rounds; two brothers, W. T. Rounds of Philadelphia, Pa., and Warren Rounds of Rotterdam Junction; and one sister, Mrs. J. Daniels of Schenectady. He was one of a family of ten children, of whom only the three last named survive.

The many friends and fellow employees of Mr. Rounds will deeply regret the demise of one who was alike a loving husband and father, and a faithful friend and a good neighbor.

GIVEN SUSPENDED SENTENCE.

Chester Price Will Be Given Opportunity to Pay Board Bill.

Chester Price, who was brought back to this city from Schenectady late last night by Chief Horton, was arraigned before Judge Huntington in city court yesterday when he pleaded guilty to the charge of beating a board bill. He was sentenced to 90 days in the Albany penitentiary.

The court suspended the sentence and paroled Price in the custody of Chief Horton to whom his wages are to be paid and after his necessary living expenses are met the balance will be applied on the board bill; that he owes the Dairy lunch until the same is liquidated, after which the costs of the proceedings and the expense of bringing him to Otsego will be paid.

The charge of adultery if one is pressed, will be prosecuted in Ulster county, the woman with whom he was said to have been living in Schenectady having hailed from the city of Kingston.

The Joyce stores, Oneonta, have received a big shipment of tapestry remnants running from 4 to 11 yards in a piece. These we can sell at half price and will fill by mail any amount. This is a big bargain and we feel sure that the goods will last only a short time. 11-15

WILL DECLINE SHIPMENTS.

American Express Will Refuse Horke Vaso Consigned to Delaware County.

A few weeks ago District Attorney A. L. O'Connor of Hobart notified the American Railway Express company that it must not deliver any more Horke Vaso in Delaware county as he considered the delivery of it a violation of the liquor tax law of the state. The express company at first contended that the preparation was licensed by the federal authorities and was being received and shipped by the manufacturers and dealers as a medicine and that therefore the express company could not refuse to accept it for transportation. Mr. O'Connor informed them that it was being sold almost exclusively as a beverage and that the class of people who handled the so-called medicine was almost conclusive evidence that the claim that the preparation was being sold as a medicine was simple a subterfuge and a wilful attempt to evade the law.

The district attorney has finally succeeded in impressing on the officers of the express company that his contention has some merit for he has just received a letter from the superintendent in which he states that while the express company found it impossible to determine that it cannot legitimately transport this medicine known as Horke Vaso, on the other hand in order to assure the district attorney of its fullest cooperation it has arranged to decline further shipments destined to Delaware county in so far as it is able to do so.

Better Washwear that stands play

You'll realize how much better Tom Sawyer Washwear is the very moment you see it. Repeated washings can't affect the splendid style nor colorings. The cloth is stronger and lasting. Garments fit, yet are roomy, with reinforcements where strains come. The good looking buttons are extra strong, and sewn on to stay. Belts, ties and trimmings are high quality.

MARKET DEPRESSION

TEMPORARILY OFFSET

Technical Conditions Supply Primary Motive For Improvement Of Speculative Sentiment

New York, Aug. 4.—Technical conditions supplied the primary motive for the improvement of speculative sentiment in the stock market today. Indications of substantial buying of railroad stocks and bonds, and plentiful supplies of call money at six per cent, offset temporary depressing influences.

Periods of weakness were interspersed with the advance, further demoralization in sterling, which broke an additional six cents, and the pessimistic reports from Poland, furnishing an incentive to early selling. Mindful of yesterday's rise in the railroads, traders were wary, and although they managed to depress prices for a while, they soon reversed their position when the list gave evidence of scale buying of a confident character.

Belief that the market had been sold temporarily to a standstill gained many supporters when it was perceived that the rise was not bringing out the customary supply of stocks. Short-covering was on a large scale in all of the popular issues, especially steels, oils, equipments and dividend-paying railroads.

Reports of the intention of the roads to spend $700,000,000 for necessary improvements caused good demand for steel and equipment issues. Some of the industrial shares broke badly because of special considerations. American Cotton Oil fell seven points on the passing of the dividend. Leathers reflected trade conditions and reports that the embargo on the exportation of hides and leathers from Australia had been removed. Sterling exchange rallied five cents from the lowest, but the general movement at the end was uncertain because of scattered realizations.

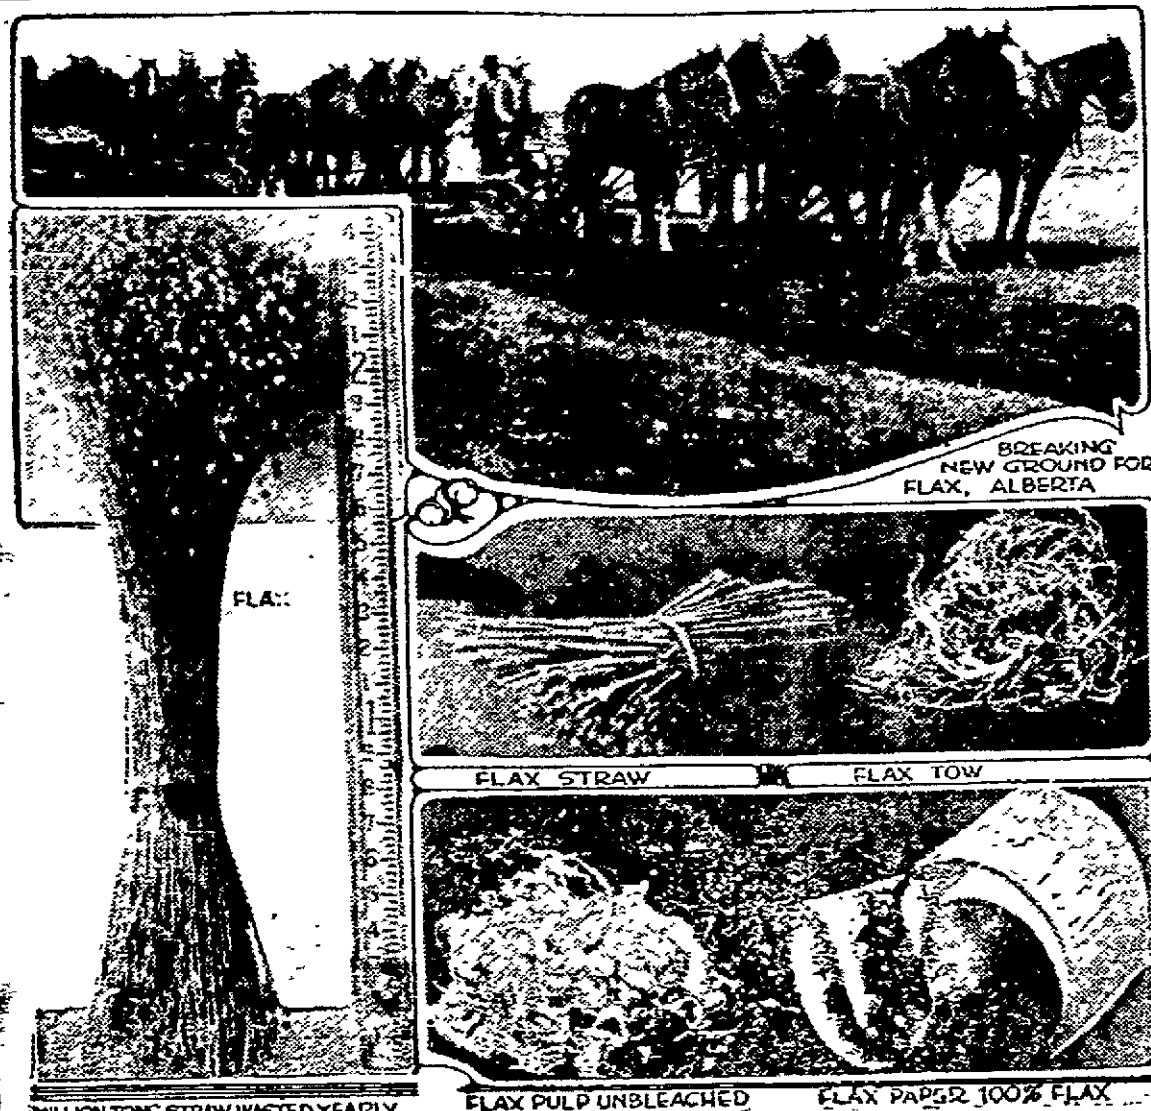

Railroad bonds made strong progress upward, but there was little alteration in prices of foreign issues. Old U. S. bonds were unchanged on call.

CANADA TURNS TO LINSEED STRAW TO MAKE PAPER PULP

Canada yearly wastes 1,000,000 tons of flax straw capable of producing over 100,000 tons of paper pulp. The Dominion manufactures annually 250,000 tons of high-grade pulp, largely for export to the United States, and this can be greatly increased by using flax straw. In 1919 Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta had 1,046,000 acres of flax under cultivation, producing 7,117,000 bushels of flax seed for linseed oil and seed purposes.

The market for high-grade paper is unparalleled today and the demand far exceeds production, in spite of an increase of 100 per cent in the price of some high-grade papers.

Limits in Canada are consumed yearly, and timber limits are rapidly increasing in value. In view of these facts the Canadian Pacific Railway has carefully investigated the use of flax straw for pulp production and the following practical plan has been worked out.

The flax straw after being threshed for linseed is sent to tow mills. Three tons of straw are converted into 1 ton of baled tow. This is sent to the pulp mill and converted to bleached or unbleached pulp, using standard equipment with a slight modification to overcome the original difficulty of removing the woody portion of the straw from the pulp.

One ton of tow is needed to make 1 ton of unbleached, or 0.93 tons of bleached pulp.

The bleached pulp is of a high quality, second only to linen and the best cotton paper-making material and is suitable for strong writing and high-grade papers. Unbleached pulp has a wide range of utility for making some writing papers, flour and cement bags, etc. The total cost of manufacturing bleached pulp is $170 to $200 a ton, and similar material today sells at $300 a ton.

Leading Canadian chemists and paper pulp manufacturers are convinced that the Dominion offers an unusual opportunity for the development of this industry.

Wrestling Match at Opera House.

A fair sized audience, drawn from various parts of Delaware county, was present at the Opera house Tuesday evening to witness a wrestling match to determine the championship of Delaware county. The first bout was between Wild Cat Jenkins and an unknown; each got a fall but from non-observance of rules the referee called a draw. The second bout was between Herbert Fullington of Bloomville and George Rampe of South Kortright. Fullington was the winner, getting two falls out of three. The main bout was between Robert Thorpe, champion of Delaware county, and Al Taxi, champion of California. Thorpe obtained the first fall in three minutes. In the second round, when it had lasted 20 minutes, Taxi received a sprained elbow and the referee called the match off and the championship will be decided at a later date.

Picnic at Wataga Falls.

The choir of the Second Presbyterian church, with their friends, enjoyed a picnic at Wataga Falls on Tuesday evening. About 50 were present and all enjoyed a good time.

MADE FEAST FOR LOBSTERS

Crustaceans No Doubt Highly Appreciated Mackerel That Seemed to Be Provided for Them.

"Charlie" is well known in his home town of Rockland. While covering his route along the south shore, he got a trade on some nice lobsters and purchased six dangles. A fat mackerel also caught his fancy while speculating in sea food and he took along the handsome specimen. Charles put the mackerel in with his lobsters and, cranking up his truck, headed for home.

"I've got something here, all right," said Charles to his better half as he carried the big bundle into the house. He dumped a crawling mass of crustaceans on the table but nowhere could he find his mackerel. Back to the auto he went but the fish had disappeared. When the lobsters were boiled and served it was noticed there was a decided flavor of mackerel to them. The diners' suspicions were aroused and, seeking authority, Charles was told that he had guessed correctly—the lobsters had eaten his mackerel. The hungry shellfish, being brought up on salted herring in the traps, were not slow to realize that an epicurean dish was being served them on the long ride home. They made the most of it, too.—Brocton Enterprise.

United in Bonds of Peace

In the presence of the chief executives of Ecuador and Colombia, the corner stone of a monument commemorative of the happy termination of the boundary dispute between the two countries, was recently laid at the bridge of Rumichaca on the frontier. President Alfredo Maquerizo Moreno of Ecuador and President Fidel Suarez met half way on the bridge and greeted each other amid a salute of artillery and cheers of spectators of both nationalities. The presidents delivered addresses referring to the monument as a symbol of peace and friendship between their respective countries.
